WHAT OUR CLIENTS SAY

"My office completely outsourced our IT support to designDATA when our IT person retired 5 years ago. This was the best decision we ever made. designDATA was able to throw all of their resources our way. This included help desk support, analyzing our IT and network status, advising on what we needed to do to address deficiencies and then taking care of them, keeping us operating smoothly on a daily basis, and advising us on future goals and needs. Their service has been invaluable."
